

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

RS29490 / S1288

This legislation resolves an ambiguity in Idaho Code relating to when appointed District Court judges are required to stand for election. It resolves this ambiguity in favor of what has been the practice for the last 20 years, which has been that judges who were appointed one or more years prior to the judicial nominating election, which is held on the primary election date in non-presidential years, must stand for election.

FISCAL NOTE

Since this legislation aligns Idaho Code with historical practice, there is no fiscal impact.
